Vibrational medicine might give certain answers because diagnostics and therapy of subtle bodies, chakras are possible. With the radionics (before and after certain energy therapy) approach (usually Voll diagnostic) in our case with pulse diagnostic (as the oldest and the most traditional one) we may see state of chakras and bio-field and how they going to behave when we have certain energy source that is good for the organisms. This energy source or device has scalar frequency and some Hertz frequencies as well added by patient needs, usually (Solfeggio frequency, 528Hz, 432Hz), LDF like 10Hz, 7,28 Hz. Good frequency can only cure not to harm to spirit or the body! What we see are Chakras and bodies before and after vibrational medicine treatment. (Acupuncture meridians, dots and chakras are attractors of the vital force, vital energy or Qi, Chi, Prana). When we have certain devices like MRAZ devices we may fulfill his energy net to his full potential if it is healthy person (80%, 90% 100%) or give certain inputs for healing, if it is sick person (ZERO POINT FIELD for exap.). One patients need: social support and security Support of the family support of the community, many doctors, Therapist as well. He/she will search for his cure everywhere including alternative medicine.so we should be prepared for this kind of challenge on all levels of the healthcare system.
