Dentures or dental implants

When Someone missed his/her teeth they will have some problems such as eating and laughing and also bad psychological state that can even affect his/her confidence and there are two option treatment plans according to their dentist's opinion to choose dental implants or dentures. In this paper, I've tried to investigate the advantages of both treatment plans. Each treatment plans has its own advantages and disadvantages. Dental Implant treatment plan advantages are natural-looking, natural-acting and natural feeling teeth and Dentures advantages are versatility, cost, and aesthetics. Both treatments plans are used as an alternative for the missing teeth and can vary according to some of the parameters including the patient-specific treatment plan, functionality, financial aspect, the appearance of teeth and the comfort care.
