

2nd International conference on Information Technology, Data Science and Digital Health November 21-22, 2022 | Webinar

Volume : 11

Future • Innovation • Leadership

Karl Lillrud

Spain

See this abstract as an embryo of the speech that I will be presenting. For you to get an idea of the presentation's relevance to your event and its audience interests and purpose of their visit to help you realize the value this will bring to your event. The audience will gather new knowledge in this complicated but highly rewarding area of business. Karl will with share his unique insight and relevant examples to inspire and empower the audience. The audience will be given relevant tools and easily applicable knowledge that sets the winner apart after listening to the presentation. We then move over to the methods to achieve great results and what tools can be used to reach success. The presentation will be tailored for the audience to easily relate to and a structure that can be seen as a maze where Karl is the guiding light. After the event your audience will have new knowledge, insight and feel empowered and inspired to make improvements to their own situation where they will apply the parts that fit their organization best..

me@karllillrud.com

Abstract received : September 16, 2022 | Abstract accepted : September 19, 2022 | Abstract published : 19-12-2022