

28th Euro Dentistry Congress

September 16-17, 2019 | Amsterdam, Netherlands

How could laser take your practice to next level?

Alshaimaa Mohammed Alnaggar

RWTH Aachen University, Germany

Lasers become important tool in daily dental practice, with the advances and different wavelengths; it became a big value and more satisfying to patients, as you will offer painless, fast, less bleeding treatments and marvelous results. In this presentation, we will show new advances in dental lasers techniques, many clinical cases before and after in routine daily dental treatments. We will also show how different wavelengths can be used in same treatment and different results with mention advantage and disadvantage, indications and contraindications.