Founded in 2008, SciTechnol Group has remained faithful to its commitment to publish world-class, peer-review scientific journals, highly respected by physicians and researchers. As a result, SciTechnol Group has become an essential part of the international medical and technological landscape by providing a vehicle for scientific dissemination – a process critical to the research cycle.

SciTechnol Group accomplishes this goal through the production and distribution of high-calibre electronic publications for a broad range of physicians and researchers, concentrating on specialists, key opinion leaders and high prescribers. Official journal supplements, reprint compilations, medical conference reports and sponsorship opportunities enhance both impact and reach.

Over the years, SciTechnol Group and the pharmaceutical industry have cooperated in this endeavor. Without industry support, the clinical concepts, practice guidelines and innovative ideas communicated by Global researchers and medical societies would not be available to the medical community. The pharmaceutical and medical device industries make a clear and important contribution to the vitality of Global medical research and practice. SciTechnol Group journals offer a unique opportunity to deliver the promotional message alongside the very best in scientific research.

Every peer review publication could bring the next breakthrough to the forefront, the next great discovery to light.

Research & Publication Cycle

Your advertising supports the publication of Global medical research. But the value of your support stretches even further: And your marketing message is seen by key opinion leaders, specialists and high prescribing GPs within their specialty category.

Peer Review Process

SciTechnol Group journals are peer reviewed. Manuscripts submitted for publication undergo a series of checks and balances before they are approved. The Editor-in-Chief and at least two other experts in the field review each manuscript for scientific merit, integrity and novelty, at which point a consensus is reached on whether an article is accepted or rejected.

The result? Credible, timely, and useful information that demands the critical attention of key opinion leaders, Global medical societies, and specialists and GPs in their specialty category – in other words, qualified readership for qualified material.
