

Past Conference Report – World Nursing 2020

Norman B. Juruena

*Southern Philippines Medical Center, Davao City, Philippines
College of Nursing, Davao Medical School Foundation, Inc., Davao City, Philippines*

Thanks for coming to World Nursing 2020!!!

A further conference on world nursing, the 29th edition, was successfully completed. We must thank the attendees, Conference Center staff, the Organizing Committee, Ad-Sponsors, Media Partners and everyone else who helped make this 29th International Conference on Nursing Science and Health Care a huge successful conference with the theme, Caring - The Essence Of Nursing.

Our World Nursing 2020 Conference conducted many session highlights for the participants like, Keynote presentations, Plenary presentations, Poster presentations, Young Researcher presentations and Video Presentations. Talks and discussions focused on the subject of “Caring-The Essence of Nursing” which was a remarkable achievement in which visibility was Keynote speakers from different presumed communities and colleges expressed their brilliant proximity and inclination to the social affair. Undergraduates and young researchers from different nations went to Best Student Oral Citation, and competed. The Nursing Care 2020 brings together people from different fields of healthcare, such as healthcare, clinical nursing, cancer nursing, cardiac nursing, critical care, adult nursing, women’s nursing, legal nursing, paediatric nursing, emergency nursing, midwives, public health nursing, nursing, clinical nursing, geriatric nursing.

Biography

Dr. Norman Juruena is currently working as Nurse II (Full-time Senior Nurse) at Southern Philippines Medical Center as well as Assistant Professor I (Part-time) at Davao Medical School Foundation, Inc. He received his second doctorate degree, Doctor of Healthcare Management, in 2019 while his first PhD in Nursing Practice in 2017. He completed his Master of Arts in Nursing major in Medical-Surgical Nursing in 2015. He is part of the Research Ethics Committee at Davao Medical School Foundation, Inc. He also works as one of the Reviewer Board Members in Nursing and Palliative Care International Journal at Ology Press in Budapest, Hungary as well as a Member of Editorial Board in Journal of Nursing at Global Scientific Research Journals in Schaumburg, Illinois, USA. His works reflect his research interests in healthcare management and clinical nursing. He is serving as a member of Philippine Nurses Association and National League of Philippine Government Nurses.

29th World Congress on Nursing Science and Healthcare, Paris, France | 22nd June - June 23rd, 2020