

Social problems of women in nursing

Dr. Abdulrazaq Mahmmmod Ibraheem

University of Duhok, Iraq

Abstract

The present study investigated to identify the most important social problems experienced by women working in nursing with children, husband, parents, relatives and neighbors. It also aims to propose solutions and treatments that will address these problems.

Are searcher used the social survey method, comparative and the statistical method. The questionnaire and observations were used, as well as the use of the survey as a secondary method. A random sample was selected. The questionnaire was distributed to a sample of (220) women working in nursing

The study included a summary of the main results of the study and some suggestions that will address these problems in order to activate the role of working women in the field of nursing. The research included a number of sources used in writing this research.

Key words: problem/ obstacles/ difficulties/ nursing women.

Biography:

Dr. Abdulrazak Mahmood Ebrahim, PhD since 1999. has expertise in entering and analyzing the data of the field studies and he investigated many of these studies in many development countries. He has experienced of social values and there effected in social development. He teaches in university of Duhok and he taught in many Arabic universities. He participated in many international conferences.

Speaker Publications:

- 1- Toyin Ajibade Adisa and others (2014), The Challenges and Realities of Work-Family Balance among Nigerian Female Doctors and Nurses, Vol.III, No. 3, 23-37.
- 2- muhammad atif nawaz and others, (2013) problems of formally employed women: a case study of bahawalnagar, pakistan, asian journal of empirical research, 3(10)2013: 1291-1299.
- 3- dr. kamini b. dashora, (2013) problems faced by working women in india, vol. 2 | no. 8, 82-94.
- 4- Zainab Qabi, (2015) Adaptive problems facing women working in the nursing profession, MA. research submitted to the university of Qasidy Merbah Algeria.
- 5- Fuad Busaera, (2015) Sources of occupational psychological stress in a sample of nurses, Tishreen University Journal for Research and Scientific Studies - Arts and Humanities Series Vol. (37) No. (1) .

30th Asia Pacific Nursing Care Congress; Webinar- November 11-12, 2020

Abstract Citation:

Dr. Abdulrazaq Mahmmmod Ibraheem, Patient Safety Culture in Health Institutions: Systematic Review for Surgical Units, Asian Nursing Care 2020, 30th Asia Pacific Nursing Care Congress; Webinar- November 11-12, 2020.